

2009 GEORGIA TECH
MODEL UNITED NATIONS CONFERENCE
Sponsored by the Sam Nunn School of International Affairs
OCTOBER 5-6 2009

HOTEL INFORMATION

This year to accommodate schools from beyond the Atlanta, the conference has teamed with the Regency Suites Hotel of Atlanta to offer exquisite lodging arrangements at a discounted price to all participants. The Regency Suites of Atlanta offers terrific amenities with every room, including:

- Convenient location directly near the Midtown Atlanta MARTA station as well as the Tech Trolley station, a perfect means of transportation to and from the Georgia Tech campus;
- Walking distance from Technology Square where the conference is held;
- Walking distance from Publix as well as other Midtown Atlanta restaurants;
- All rooms furnished with kitchenettes;
- Complimentary breakfast included;
- Complimentary dinners (2 per room);
- Complimentary Internet access;
- Access to the Business Center;
- Low, discounted rate of $109 per room per night (must book at link provided below).

To reserve rooms, you MUST book through:

<https://gc.synxis.com/rez.aspx?Hotel=11891&Chain=5382&promo=gt>

If you have any questions or would like more information, please contact

Tevonne Glover (tevonne@regencysuites.com)

(404) 876 - 5003 ext. 139 (office)

More information about Regency Suites Hotel and their amenities can be found at <http://www.regencysuites.com/> but please make sure to use the first link for any reservations.

Lisa Palazzolo
Conference Director

Parth Brahmhatt
Director General

Ted Danowitz
Secretary General

Special thanks to:

KirkBowman, Ph.D
Faculty Advisor

Brian Woodall, Ph.D
Acting Chair,
Sam Nunn School of International Affairs